

Develop your collaboration skills with Clarkson College

Learn from a leader in interprofessional education

Clarkson College Interprofessional Education (IPE) is a self-paced, online course that helps professionals enhance their skills in the areas of communication, teamwork, roles and responsibilities, values, and ethics. The course is specifically designed to encourage collaboration between different professions, with insight into both health care and community-based organizations integrated throughout the online modules.

Managers and team members can complete the course together to experience the benefits of interprofessional education and collaboration.

- Increased job satisfaction
- Improved client and patient outcomes
- Shared foundation for excellence

Radiography and medical imaging professionals can complete the American Society of Radiologic Technologists (ASRT) approved course.

Prepare to be the best.

Timeline

Participants have until the end of the current calendar year to complete all course activities.

- Modules 1–4 include brief lectures, videos and activities
- Module 5 includes IPE in Practice. Participants will complete one pre-approved IPE activity along with a self-reflection.

Cost

$99 (certificate and up to 9 continuing education contact hours for select professions issued upon completion)

Use the following code at the time of registration to save 30%. Codes are valid through March 31, 2023.

- General course: IPE2023
- ASRT course: IPE2023ASRT

Learn more

Interprofessional Education Course | Clarkson College

Contact

communityadvancement@clarksoncollege.edu

AN EDUCATIONAL PARTNER WITH

ClarksonCollege.edu/Nebraska-Medicine